Riyad Felix - The Medina - Marrakech - Morocco

This riyaad is very well situated in the Ksour area of the Medina of Marrakech, just a two minute walk from the famous Jmna El Fna square, and in the midst of the Souk. The riyaad, once a classical palace in the Medina of Marrakech, has been ingeniously restored and designed. It evokes a cool mixture of orientalism and African ethnicity, with a contemporary style.

The traditional central courtyard is dominated by a mosaic pool, tucked under intricate arches, from which hang a lusciously red chandelier. The ground floor comprises the entrance hall, central courtyard, drawing-room, one bedroom with en suite bathroom, the kitchen and dining room. This room has been recently refurbished in a silver dominated slick minimalist style, yet the intricate large silver framed mirrors allow a sophistication not usually found in minimalist rooms.

The first floor holds the other three bedrooms each with en-suite bathrooms and a marvellous indoor corridor, which also serves as another reading/working place.

The work of these interior designers is ingeniously avant-guard. They finely intertwine designs and influences with spectacularly stylish results, always allowing for comfortable living and the preferences of their clients.
